

Fair Lawn Jewish Day Camp

Camp positions

2015/5775

FLJDC is among the fastest growing Jewish day camps in Bergen County and offers a unique Jewish day camp experience filled with fun, excitement, trips, and new adventures. The 2015 season of FLJDC will be located at the Yeshivat Noam campus in Paramus. FLJDC is under the auspices of Bris Avrohom of Fair Lawn which is open year-round offering programs, holiday celebrations, religious services, Hebrew School, Summer Day Camp and so much more. Our summer camp program runs for 8 weeks, with an additional week of staff training before camp begins.

Staff Training will begin on Sunday, June 21, 2015 at 10:00am and will run each evening of the entire week leading up to camp. Attendance to all staff training sessions are mandatory (even for returning staff). As part of a condition of employment you are required to commit to attend all training sessions.

Our summer camp is composed of a variety of programs:

- Kiddie Camp - for campers ages 2.5 & 4
- Junior Division - for children entering grades K - 2
- Pioneer Division - for children entering grades 3 - 5
- Adventure Camp - for children entering grades 6 - 8

We only accept staff who commit to work for all eight weeks of camp, June 29 - August 21, 2015 and who can commit to attend all staff training beginning the week of Sunday, June 21, 2015.

Available Summer Positions Include:

Division Head: Must be at least 20 years of age and a high school graduate. Must relate to and work well with kids ages 5-13. Weekly wage $400 - $450, depending on experience, plus any tips you may receive from parents. Division Heads are in charge of a division with up to 60 children (approximately) and assume responsibility of supervision, leadership, management, and guidance of staff and campers which includes but is not limited to, ensuring counselors have everything they need to do their jobs, bunks are on time for activities, leading the division spirit, cheers and songs, managing trips, and attendance checklists, as well as managing extra care for their division. Division heads are responsible for interpreting and encouraging the rules, policies, and traditions of FLJDC to counselors and campers. Must have a "Kids First" vision and place the camper's safety and camp experience first. Division heads are responsible for inspiring counselor and camper participation in all camp activities and meals. Must encourage a fun, positive, and safe environment within the parameters of FLJDC's mission.

Counselor: Must be at least 18 years of age and a high school graduate. Must relate to and work well with kids ages 5-13. Weekly wage $320 plus any tips you may receive from parents. Counselors are in charge of a bunk with up to 15 campers and assume responsibility for supervision, leadership, and guidance of campers. Leads, or assists in leading, all camp activities and off-site trips, sports, and swimming. Counselors are responsible for interpreting the rules, policies, and traditions of FLJDC to campers, and must have a "Kids First" vision and place the camper's safety and camp experience first. Counselors are responsible for inspiring camper participation in all camp activities and meals. Must encourage a fun, positive, and safe environment within the parameters of FLJDC's mission.

Junior Counselor: Must be at least 16 years of age. Must relate to and work well with kids ages 5-13. Weekly wage $250 plus any tips you may receive from parents. Junior Counselors are in charge of a bunk with up to 15 campers and assume responsibility for supervision, leadership, and guidance of campers. Assists in leading, all camp activities and off-site trips, sports and swimming. Junior Counselors are responsible for interpreting the rules, policies, and traditions of FLJDC to campers. Must have a "Kids First" vision and place the camper's safety and camp experience first. Junior Counselors are responsible for inspiring camper participation in all camp activities and meals. Must encourage a fun, positive, and safe environment within the parameters of FLJDC's mission.

Camp EMT: Must be at least 18 years old and a high school graduate, have EMT certification or higher, and employment or volunteer experience in this field at a medical emergency organization (ambulance, hospital etc.). Weekly wage ranges from $250-400 (depending on experience and certifications). Oversees the health and safety of campers and staff. Responsible for the daily operation of FLJDC's health center. Responsible for all medical supplies, records, recordings and distributions. Is on call at all times during camp hours. Must have a "Kids First" vision and place the camper's safety and camp experience first. Must encourage a fun, positive, and safe environment within the parameters of the FLJDC's mission. Must relate and work well with kids ages 2.5-13.

General Manager: Must be at least 13 years of age. Must relate and work well with kids. Weekly wage $200 plus any tips you may receive. General Managers are responsible for setting up daily lunch and snacks at camp and on trips. Setting up and refilling water coolers outdoors. Set up and pack up of camp before and after season. Help unit head with activities set up and clean up. Must have a "Kids First" vision and place the camper's safety and camp experience first.

Mother's Helper/Kiddie Camp Assistant: Must be at least 13 years of age. Must relate and work well with kids. Weekly wage $150 plus any tips you may receive. Assist in supervising children, encourage and join play time, assist in bathroom trips, classroom set up, changing for water play, preparing for nap time, snack time and lunch time. Must have a "Kids First" vision and place the camper's safety and camp experience first. Must relate and work well with kids ages 1-5.